Subject: Microsoft Settlement

I just wanted to add my input on the weak settlement in the Microsoft Anti-trust case. Allowing such a weak remedy for the blatant violations of this monopolistic tyranny provides one more proof of the general consensus that you get only as much justice as you can afford to buy!

As you are probably aware, since the settlement offer Microsoft has been aggressively pursuing their aggression in new areas.

I urge you to reject the settlement offered as not in the public interest. Any remedy should sting at least to the extent that the perpetrators are able to gauge the pain that they have inflicted on others.
